Main problems found

- Link with no description
- Font subset data is incomplete
- Content that is neither tagged nor marked as decoration
- No PDF/UA identifier (file does not declare itself accessible)
- Annotations or links with no description
- No document title in metadata

What we did (Typst rebuild)

- Original was tagged but failed 7 rules: logo with no alt text, link with no description, missing title metadata.
- The vague 'clicking here' link became a descriptive link to the application.
- The three open seats became a real list; e-mail and phone are working links.
- Logo given alt text.

Still to do before delivery to a client: a person reads the file with a screen reader (NVDA) to confirm reading order and alt text, and the agency approves the rebuilt layout. Rebuilt files carry the same content as the original, not a pixel copy of its design.
